

EDITORIAL

Foreword

It is our pleasure to introduce another new initiative from ChanRe journal platform titled 'Internet Journal of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine (IJPLM)'. The publication focuses on pathology and laboratory medicine.

The basis of diagnosis and further management in current medical practice depends upon the evaluation and interpretation of laboratory parameters in conjunction with clinical signs, symptoms, and disease pathogenesis. The diagnosis and treatment are the open areas of investigations in medicine, witnessing tremendous advancements and developments. As a diagnostic specialty, pathology and laboratory medicine plays a critical role in evidence-based medicine by providing a thorough understanding of the scientific basis of diagnosing, treating, and preventing diseases.

IJPLM will focus on publishing high-quality papers that advance the knowledge of pathogenesis, classification, diagnosis, clinical medicine, biochemical aspects, and mechanisms of diseases. The journal focuses on histopathology, immune diagnostics, microbiology, serology, molecular diagnostics, and various other newer modalities. We welcome original articles, updates, case reports, reviews, and commentaries. We hope that the new publication will be able to attract the interest of researchers and scientists worldwide and we could do the very best to realize the journal goals and encourage clinicians worldwide to utilize this as a platform to access knowledge. We all welcome you to join our endeavor and we hope to receive a great number of contributions for the upcoming issues.
